CS-Maxwell Tool www.maxwelltool.com

Background:

Maxwell Tool is a small job shop that is located in my garage. I have been machining parts for 15 years and have been involved in making small injection molds for about 6 years now. Maxwell Tool specializes in the design and manufacturing of close tolerance machined parts, short run aluminum injection molds, test fixtures, and job specific tooling. I have owned a Tormach for a little over 3 years now, has been a great find, nice machine for the money.
